Your top classroom supply wishes: 1. Student prizes for classroom store

2. Student privacy dividers for testing

3. Folder/workbook organizing box/bins for student's desks

4. Manilla Folders for lap books

Anything you would prefer not to receive/have plenty of? 1. Paper

2. Math manipulatives

What can your classroom parents do to help you the most? Run copies, laminate & cut, and decorate bulletin board/door with changing seasons

One thing you would love for your parents to know this year? I implement a classroom incentive program called "Earning by Learning". Students will earn $1 by following the classroom expectations. They will be able to spend their earned money or save for a bigger prize/item. Through this process they will learn to add money, make change, and learn about spending and saving. This is also a positive reinforcement for behavior and classroom management. However, it does get costly to purchase prizes for 2 classrooms. Therefore, any donations of incentive prizes (big or small) for my students are welcomed.
