One thing you would love for your parents to know this year? I am so excited to be your child's teacher. I will work my hardest to help them find their voice, come to school in a caring and safe environment, help them grow, and do my best to meet all of their needs. I am also there for them if they need anything! I have a 3rd grader this year as well so I can relate more this year to parents than ever!
