One thing you would love for your parents to know this year? I love every student and will do everything to help them succeed. I have taught 1st grade for four years and 2nd grade dual-language for a year. I'm a mother of two boys (14 and 8) and I'm also married to a veteran. I love dogs and we have five of them (one we inherited after my grandparents passed away at the start of 2023). I love for parents to be involved in my room and never mind answering questions or concerns.
